FELIX SALTEN
BENJAMIN LACOMBE

Benjamin Lacombe bridges the gap between the original text of Bambi and Disney's interpretation.

› BAMBI

BAMBI

Bambi is a coming-of-age novel that tells of the many ordeals a young deer must overcome after his mother is killed by hunters. The original text by Felix Salten, published in Germany in 1923, was met with immediate success, but was later banned and burned by Nazi authorities because of its "political allegory of the treatment of the Jewish people in Europe."

BERNADETTE GERVAIS

In 4 Steps introduces children to a fascinating theme: the relativity of time.

EN 4 TEMPS

IN 4 STEPS

With her photographer's eye and humorous style, Bernadette Gervais explains notions like "action" (such as a cat walking) and "transformation" (such as an egg becoming a chicken) in 4 successive stages, each one in a different box, to encourage children to question the elasticity of time and the effects it has on all things. FRED BERNARD
FRANÇOIS ROCA

François Roca's paintings beautifully depict the raw power of King Kong, as well as New York in the 1930s.

KING KONG

KING KONG

King Kong, the legendary giant gorilla, was created by screenwriter and film producer Merian C. Cooper in 1933. In this retelling of the mythical movie, the narrator's point of view alternates with King Kong's, allowing the reader to glimpse into the monstrous gorilla's psyche. This original take on the famous story accentuates the similarities between Kong and the heroine, the beautiful but penniless actress Ann, who understands Kong's loneliness, and his resentment for being turned into a sideshow attraction. THE FEMALE BODY

WHAT ARTISTS
WANTED TO MAKE OF US

Since prehistoric times and the Venus of Willendorf, women have been the object of fantasies. Goddesses or prostitutes, virgins or witches, loving mothers or sexualized daughters: they have been portrayed, put on display, and overexposed from a predominantly masculine point of view. With stunning iconography, from Botticelli to Cindy Sherman, Picasso to Frida Kahlo, and many other illustrious artists, this book is an account of the evolution of women's status, a journey through their sexual and political emancipation.

FACUNDO PERCIO

The masterful adaptation of a nearly-forgotten masterpiece.

› LES CROIX DE BOIS

WOODEN CROSSES

In 1919, Albin Michel published Les Croix de Bois by Roland Dorgelès, which forever revolutionized the war novel genre. Inspired by the author's experiences as a soldier in the trenches of WWI, the book was immediately acclaimed by critics. JD Morvan and Facundo Percio deliver a brilliant adaptation of this horrific, uncompromising, yet sometimes humorous masterpiece by connecting Dorgelès' novel with events from his own life, thus demonstrating the thin line that exists between truth and fiction.
