MICHEL BACQ

How to awaken the powerful love that lies dormant within us?

› L'EMPATHIE FAIT DES MIRACLES

EMPATHY WORKS MIRACLES

An invisible force helps us to empathize with others and with ourselves. Marshall Rosenberg, the man who developed "Nonviolent Communication," calls it "the divine force of love." The author identifies this with the strength of the Holy Spirit, which, through his resurrection, Jesus offers to everyone who thirsts for communion.

FAMILIES: BEAUTIFUL AND FRAGILE!

The apostolic exhortation on couples and families by Pope Francis, Amoris Laetitia: The Joy of Love, deeply resonated within and beyond the Church. That being said, its implementation in the dioceses, parishes, and movements has raised a number of practical questions. This book aims to take stock of concrete examples in order to facilitate its appropriation by those directly or indirectly involved in family pastoral care.

BENOÎT VERMANDER

The experience of lockdown remains alive and fruitful, encouraging us both to remember and to awaken our powers of imagination.

› QUE CETTE DEMEURE EST DONC PRÉCAIRE ! :
DE CHINE, PENSER EN PANDÉMIE

HOW PRECARIOUS THIS DWELLING IS! FROM CHINA, THINKING DURING A PANDEMIC

The experience of lockdown remains alive and fruitful, encouraging us both to remember and to awaken our powers of imagination. It made us more open to rereading the past, not to curl up in it, but to find perspective, to better discern the issues – spiritual and political, inseparably – which determine the future of our local and national communities, Europe, and the world system. Freely inspired by Pope Francis's Encyclical Laudato si, by his Jesuit roots, and by his experience in the Chinese world and its Classics, Benoît Vermander traces the contours of what our common condition is called to become if this pandemic is to be an act of passage.

ÉTIENNE PERROT

Learn how the economy, the cultural, the ecological, the political, and the social form a complex system with a logic that is binding, but whose destiny is not carved into stone.

› ESPRIT DU CAPITALISME, OÙ ES-TU ?

SPIRIT OF CAPITALISM, WHERE ARE YOU?

Capitalism has his own logic. But does it have a spirit? Between the system's economic and social conditioning and the personal aspirations of the actors, confrontations are inevitable. This battle is being waged in all aspects of social life: the price of wheat, the value of art, the price of health, the moods of a business manager or a politician, the eruption of a big name in the media, cryptocurrencies, the coronavirus, the privatization of water, the taxation of gambling, etc. In each of these situations, the dilemmas that challenge the actors, the compromises that are offered to them, and the values that give meaning to their discernment are revealed.

BENOÎT DE BAENST

By "hereafter" the Church means everything that faith says about the ultimate, what comes last, at the end, whether with respect to each man or to history.

↳ L'AU-DELÀ

THE HEREAFTER

After recognizing the difficulties associated with such a discourse and explaining how holy history founds and articulates it, the author draws on Holy Scripture and the Old and the New Testaments. He then considers the Fathers of the Church, theologians, mystics, the Magisterium, and the liturgy to identify the contributions of each on this difficult subject. In a brilliant conclusion, he synthesizes the essence of the Catholic faith in this matter.
