AMONGST THE TREES

AN ESSAY ON LIFE TOGETHER

A natural sciences specialist, Alexis Jenni started his career teaching science before making a name for himself through his novels. Amongst the Trees is the first book in which he brings together his two passions: science and literature. The result is a text of science on the move, light, poetic, and philosophical.

› AUTOBIOGRAPHIE D'UN POULPE ET AUTRES RÉCITS D'ANTICIPATION

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF AN OCTOPUS AND OTHER FUTURISTIC TALES

Let's blur the lines between science and fiction! What if spiders were calling out to us to turn off our noisy machines? What if the constructions of wombats bore witness to a welcoming cosmology, offering a lesson on conviviality? What if octopuses, fans of metempsychosis, were distressed at no longer being able to be reincarnated due to overfishing and ocean pollution? Through this fascinating and surprising thought experiment, Vinciane Despret de-centers our gaze, opening a path to other ways of being human on Earth...

JULIE RUOCCO

Like a contemporary variation of "Orestes", a first novel that intelligently explores history's disappointments and "the courage of renaissances". Homage to the women who defined the Arab revolutions.

FURIES

The destinies of a young archeologist (who has been led astray to antiquities trafficking) and a Syrian firefighter-turned-gravedigger collide in the context of war. Between that which she uncovers and that which he buries lies the history of a people that believed in its revolution.

THE ORIGIN OF THE WORLD

A NATURAL HISTORY
OF THE GROUND FOR THOSE WHO WALK ON IT

The ground that we walk upon is no less than the origin of the world. It hosts the largest fraction of biodiversity and the greatest diversity of mechanisms that enable ecosystems to function. But we only recently became aware of its importance and the threats it faces. Marc-André Selosse invites us on an underground journey to discover the ground and better understand it.
