A FOREGONE CONCLUSION

Reine, a design consultant, lives with Noé, her beloved 17-year-old son that she has raised on her own. As Noé is about to fly the nest, Reine realizes that she needs to reconsider her life. The new clients signed by her agency seem to be a godsend: an up-and-coming import company in Saint Malo, the city of sea merchants and buccaneers. Reine travels to Brittany to meet Pacôme, all rugged good looks and the soul of a traveler, and a mysterious second partner who will turn her life upside down.

EIFFEL

Not long after finishing his work on the Statue of Liberty, at the height of his career, Gustave Eiffel is invited by the French government to design something spectacular for the Universal Exhibition, to be held in Paris in 1889. Eiffel is focused on the project to build the metropolitan underground train system. But everything changes after a chance encounter with his childhood love, the beautiful Adrienne Bourgès. Their forbidden relationship gives him the inspiration that will alter the Parisian skyline forever.

Diane, the owner of a cozy coffee shop in Paris, seems to have the perfect life. But when she loses her husband and daughter in a car accident, her life is turned upside down. Diane closes her shop and retreats from friends and family. One year later, she moves to a small town on the Irish coast, determined to rebuild her life alone, without anyone's help or pity. Then she meets Edward, a handsome and moody Irish photographer. Along windy shores and cobbled streets, Diane falls into a surprising and tumultuous romance.

SURFACE

A Paris suburb. A police operation goes wrong and Captain Noémie Chastain is shot in the head. She will survive, disfigured, a living reminder for her colleagues of the dangerous nature of their job. Months later in rural France, the tiniest and quietest precinct in the country, where Noémie has been sent "to recover." Her secret mission: write a report for the closure of the local police station. One morning, a keg is found in the lake near the village. Inside it, the body of a child that went missing 25 years ago...

THE FAVORED DAUGHTER

ONE WOMAN'S FIGHT TO LEAD AFGHANISTAN INTO THE FUTURE

As history seems to be repeating itself in Afghanistan, this story of survival and hope could not be more timely. Born to the second of her father's 7 wives in rural Afghanistan, Fawzia Koofi rose above her fate to become the first female Speaker of Parliament. Along the way, she faced the murders of her father, brother, and husband, and numerous attempts on her life. Here, she shares her amazing story, with poignant letters to her two daughters describing her dreams for the future of all their countrywomen.
