HUBERT POIROT-BOURDAIN

A sweet tale about ecology and sustainable development.

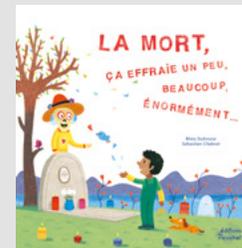

› 20 NOISSETTES POUR HECTOR

20 HAZELNUTS FOR HECTOR

Each nightfall, Hector and all the squirrels count the nuts collected that day. 138 for Arthus, 107 for Daphnée... Hector only brings back 20 nuts! What can he be doing all day? Is he lazy or far-sighted? One day, their forest is threatened. So Hector speaks up and becomes a hero!

DEATH FRIGHTENS A BIT, A LOT...

Talking about death with children isn't always easy! But it is part of life. All living things are born, live, and die... That is how the cycle of life works. Each person has their own way of dealing with loss: some prefer to be alone; others deal with it in groups. One thing is certain: death is much less frightening when you talk about it! Rhéa Dufresne explores this topic gently and delicately.

LES ARANEÏDES

MYSTERIES AND COBWEBS THE ARANEIDAE

Spiders are often mistaken for insects. But they are actually part of the arachnid family. Today, there are nearly 50,000 species of spiders in the world. Not bad for little hairy beasts that rubbed shoulders with dinosaurs 240 million years ago! They have more than one trick up their sleeves! Did you know that the misumene changes its color to blend in with the scenery for hunting? Discover all kinds of surprising facts about spiders!

› L'AMAZONE, FLEUVE DE LA BIODIVERSITÉ

THE AMAZON RIVER

The Amazon is an amazing river! First, it is one of the longest in the world. It flows through 6 countries and covers about a third of South America! During floods, it seeps into the Amazon rainforest. Together, they shelter an unparalleled biodiversity with nearly 15% of known life forms! Thousands of people depend on this river. Botanists discovered that the forest had been domesticated by native peoples, who contributed to the growing of medicinal and edible species.

Dive into the topics of space exploration and space conquest.

↳ POURQUOI LA CONQUÊTE SPATIALE ?

WHY SPACE EXPLORATION?

Although humans have long dreamt of exploring space, the adventure only started 60 years ago. The first excursion was technological: satellites, probes... followed by Man's first step on the Moon! This leads to more questions than answers for astrophysicists: does space conquest still make sense today? What ecological impact for the Earth, but also for space? What technological innovations has it brought us?
