CHLOÉ CRUCHAUDET

A tale inspired by the life of Céleste Albaret, Marcel Proust's servant.

› CÉLESTE : BIEN SÛR,
MONSIEUR PROUST (PARTIE 1)

CÉLESTE OF COURSE, MR. PROUST (PART 1)

The year is 1914. 23-year-old Céleste finds herself going to work for Marcel Proust, one of her taxi driver husband's regular customers. Céleste will follow him through all of his whims, from food or clothing to his strange habits, remaining devoted to him up until his death in 1922. Chloé Cruchaudet's unique and graceful style pays homage to two fascinating characters, one crowned with the historic laurels of literature and the other in his shadow, thus taking us on an amazing trip into the Paris of the Belle Époque.

ANTOINE ETTORI

*A brawling sailor sets out to look for an old friend who has disappeared on the other side of the world.
A colorful adventure
full of twists and turns,
in the tradition of the great Hayao Miyazaki!*

› JANARDANA

JANARDANA

When he receives a call for help from his friend Dev, the not-so-young but still green Marcel Piton doesn't think twice about leaving his native southwest France for Pondicherry in India. Once he arrives, he not only has to avoid the pitfalls hampering his search, but above all, he must confront old and deeply embedded demons that will force him to face his past.

VALENTINE CUNY-LE CALLET

At the heart of the American penal system. A first graphic novel with great emotional power.

› PERPENDICULAIRE AU SOLEIL

PERPENDICULAR TO THE SUN

The true story of the unique friendship between the author and a prisoner on death row, Renaldo McGirth, with whom she corresponds. When she begins their correspondence, Valentine's only conviction is that no human being – regardless of his actions – deserves to be sentenced to death by his peers. A superbly mastered representation and a plea against the death penalty that leaves room for both thought and emotion.

FABIEN TOULMÉ

Reflections of the World is rooted in Fabien Toulmé's trips to Lebanon, Brazil, and Benin, allowing him to relate three testimonies of resistance to political, religious, or capitalist oppression.

› EN LUTTE

RESISTANCE

This is the story of three wars, three struggles led by committed citizens. Or rather by "women citizens" because women are fundamental in such movements. The author explains, "Over the course of my trips, I realized that women occupy a central place, if not exclusive, in these struggles. This graphic novel provides the opportunity to highlight this aspect, which is often underestimated."

YUNBO

A very human tale about animals that follows the life of a little vixen from the age of 5 to 16. A moving story that will not leave anyone indifferent!

SEIZIÈME PRINTEMPS

SIXTEEN SPRINGS

At the age of 5, the young vixen Yeowoo leaves for the countryside to live with her grandfather and her aunt. Rejected by her kin, a garden hen called Paulette becomes her new neighbor. She has never been able to lay eggs and takes the solitary young vixen under her wing. With her help, Yeowoo matures, grows, and begins to enjoy life in the country... and life itself.
