Balivernes

Balivernes Editions is a publishing house specialized in children's books. We put children at the center of our creations, to develop their passion for reading and to encourage them to make our books their own. Our titles might even help adults to rediscover the world of childhood! With each project, we strive to develop children's imagination, creativity, and reactivity while respecting young readers; celebrate humor, play, dreams, and poetry; encourage openness to today's world in all its complexity; open doors to topics that incite conversations with adults in order to enrich children and help them grow; discover new talents; and take risks.

IN THE WOODS

A boy is standing at the edge of a wood. In all fairy tales, this is where heroes and heroines have extraordinary life-changing adventures, where Little Red Riding Hood met the wolf and where Gretel outsmarted the witch. He too wants to embark on an adventure that will make him grow up. But deep in the forest, he encounters a gigantic wolf who transforms him into a fearful little rabbit. What can he do in the face of such a monster?
