A Selection of French Titles

COMIC BOOKS 2022
& GRAPHIC NOVELS
For nearly 150 years, BIEF has been promoting French publishers’ creations on the international scene with the vocation of facilitating and developing exchange between French and foreign professionals in the publishing industry.

This catalogue presents 20 publishing houses and 90 titles. It is intended as both a working and reference tool for all those interested in comic books published in France, especially foreign publishers, booksellers, and librarians keen to build their list of translated and/or adapted works in this sector.

This catalogue was created to promote the great variety and high quality of comic publishing in France, and to help publishers, booksellers, and librarians abroad strengthen existing ties with their French counterparts.

Founded in 1900, Éditions Albin Michel is one of the rare French publishing houses that is still independent and one of the top ten players in the French publishing market. Today, the catalogue boasts 6,000 titles with 500 new titles added yearly. In 2020, Albin Michel diversified its activity by launching a comics department. In the first year, two major successes were published: Sapiens, a graphic novel adaption of the best-selling essay by Yuval Noah Harari, with rights already sold in 35 languages and the punk graphic novel Vernon Subutex by Virginie Despentes and Luz which has sold over 60,000 copies so far.

The Children of Plomeneac
Series, 2 volumes
L’institutrice
Yves Lavandier, Carole Maurel
Albin Michel, 2022, 2023

June 1944: the Allied troops have landed in Normandy. But in Brittany, the occupying forces and their quislings continue to hunt down resistance fighters, Jews… and even children. When they come to search Marie-Noëlle’s school to find Jacques, a Jewish boy, she and her whole class flee into the forest. The odyssey of a stern but kind-hearted teacher and her eight students – including a Jewish boy and the son of an antisemitic Pétain supporter – will reveal her students’ true nature and show that strength and weakness reside where we least expect them.

Albin Michel
Vega
Serge Lehman, Yann Legendre
Albin Michel, 2022

2060: the combined effects of climate change and Expansion Wars between rival countries have ravaged the earth. Deep in the Javanese jungle, anthropologist Ann Vega discovers a female from a species believed to be extinct: the orangutan. The ecoterrorist Alter-Pongo movement, who advocate equal rights for humans and animals, will stop at nothing to seize this last survivor and recreate the species by cloning. When they attack Ann’s daughter, the anthropologist sends the orangutan to an orbital station in a last-ditch attempt to save her from human folly.

Science — Environment

Jazzman
Jop
Albin Michel, 2022

Tony Scrump – mayor, press magnate, real estate mogul – keeps his town of New Story City placated with sweet music while carrying out his megalomaniacal plans for gentrification. Meanwhile, guided by young sound engineer Billie’s radiophonic intuitions, a bartender, a pessimistic saxophonist, and a mystical hobo undertake an urban odyssey that will lead them to the city’s highest point: Scrump Tower.

Jazz — Dystopia
Vernon Subutex
(Series, 2 volumes)
Vernon Subutex
Virginie Despentes, Luz
Albin Michel, 2020, 2022

Who is Vernon Subutex? An urban legend. A fallen angel. A missing person who keeps turning back up. A man with a secret. Last witness to a bygone world. The final face of our inhuman comedy. The ghost of us all. Virginie Despentes uses the nonchalant Vernon’s downfall to deliver a gallery of eccentric, unlikable, yet relatable middle-aged characters, unable to leave their youthful glory behind and adapt to a fast-paced, unforgiving society.

Music—Society

The Mad Women’s Ball
Le bal des folles
Victoria Mas, Véro Cazot, Arianna Melone
Albin Michel, 2021

The Salpêtrière asylum, late 19th century. Every year, eminent neurologist Dr. Charcot throws a ball for his patients: epileptics, hysterics, and madwomen, who for just one night all dress up and dance before the eager eyes of the thrill-seeking Parisian elite. Behind the scenes, however, the truth of this bold experiment is far more complicated. These women are often inconvenient: unwanted wives, strong-willed daughters… Among them is Eugénie, sentenced to rot by her father for speaking with the dead. But she’s not crazy, and the ball will give her the perfect chance to escape her jailers.

Finding your career path sometimes means taking a few detours. One day, Clementine misses the bus and wind up stuck at a gas station in the middle of nowhere... but close to what she’s been looking for: answers to her existential questions. The soothing stories of Antoine, the amazing grocer; the experiences of Chantal the writer; the journey of Thomas, CEO and hiker — these will forever change Clementine’s outlook on life. These people inspire her to try and find her own path – even if, like anyone else’s path, it involves odd detours. A story full of optimism!

Feel-good

The seas and oceans have disappeared, their waters evaporated, the sea creatures died. In a world become a desert, phantom waves return to haunt humanity, bringing ghosts eager for vengeance. The specter of a white whale terrorizes a Paris in ruins. Only the musicians of the Opera House can channel its fury, by playing for it. Until one day, two travelers get involved: a woman who dances with jellyfish and a man with a troubled past. Are they on the side of the survivors or on the side of the ghosts?

Disaster – Environment – Fantasy
The Adoption (Series, 3 volumes)
L’adoption
Zidrou, Arno Monin

When my son said he was adopting a Peruvian child orphaned in an earthquake, I wasn’t a big fan of the idea. But everyone here took to you at once: my wife Maryse, my friends the Gégés, our neighbors and family… Just not me. It took me time. Now, I know your name means “cloud” in Aymara. And clouds pass by in the sky, don’t they? I also learned another Aymara word: achachi, or grandfather. It’s what you called me the last time we saw each other. Just writing those words makes my heart tremble. Since you left us, Qinaya, all I do is look at the sky, wishing for a cloud to pass: you.

Family – Orphan – Adoption

Big Myths, Little Liars
(Series, 12 volumes)
Les petits mythos
Christophe Cazenove, Philippe Larbier
Bamboo Édition, 2012-2021

There is a land where beasts of myth and legend dwell. Where half-human, half-animal creatures live side-by-side with demigods. Where some possess superhuman strength, while others can transmute anything they touch into gold. This is the land where Atlas, Hercules, the Minotaur, Aphrodite, and all other mythical creatures live, at the base of Mount Olympus, ruled over by a depressed Zeus on the edge of a nervous breakdown.

Mortelle Adèle (Series, 21 volumes)
Mr. Tan, Diane Le Feyer, based on the works of Mr. Tan and Miss Prickly
Bayard, 2013-2022

Mortelle Adèle is an inspiring, empowering heroine for girls, her finger always on the pulse of the moment. Whether she’s driving her parents mad, conducting lots of weird experiments, or breaking Geoffroy’s heart, Adèle is never short on ideas for wreaking havoc wherever she goes. A dollop of black humor, a dash of tenderness – fasten your seatbelt, dear reader, you’re in for quite a ride!

Mischief – Daily life – Empowerment
Ariol (Series, 17 volumes)
Emmanuel Guibert, Marc Boutavant
Bayard, Collection “BD Kids”, 2011-2022

Curious, inventive, and energetic, Ariol is very much like any other little boy – except he has blue skin, tall ears, and oversized glasses! His dreams and lively personality make him an original and endearing hero!
Friendship – Daily life

Adélikélo (Series, 8 volumes)
Marie-Agnès Gaudrat, Frédéric Benaglia
Bayard, Collection “Mini BD Kids”, 2016-2022

Adélikélo is a little girl learning how to deal with all sorts of big emotions. She yells, she sobs, she’s full of joy and always brimming with feel-good ideas, even when she has nightmares or gets angry. But what she loves most of all? Spreading joy!
Emotions – Social skills – Daily life
Glouton (Series, 4 volumes)
B-Gnet

Glouton the Wolverine has one aim in life and one only: to eat as much as he can with as little effort as possible. Not an easy task when you live in the Arctic with wolves and bears all over, looking for their next snack! But Glouton is such a cunning tactician and a brilliant liar that he’s never even had to fight any of them – except on own his terms, that is! A hilarious lesson on how to be persuasive.

Animals – Social skills

Cinder and Hazel (Series, 3 volumes)
Cendre et Hazel
Thom Pico, Karensac
Bayard, Collection “Bd Kids”, 2021, 2022

Cinder, an apprentice witch, can’t wait to take her final exam. So much so, in fact, that she accidentally turns her big sister Hazel into… a goat! The two sisters head off in search of a way to turn Hazel back into a human being. But nothing goes as planned! A funny new magical coming-of-age series, full of tenderness and twists, by the authors of the comic book series Aubépine!

Witches – Magic

Listen Up, Marcia

Écoute, jolie Márcia
Marcello Quintanilha
Çà et Là, 2021

Born and raised in a Rio favela, nurse and single mother Márcia struggles to keep her rebellious daughter in line. But when young Jaqueline finds herself neck-deep in organized crime, Márcia will have to face huge risks to get her out of danger… whether Jaqueline likes it or not. The internationally acclaimed Marcello Quintanilha is one of Brazil's most famous comics artists. Listen Up, Márcia is an emotional, surprising, and unmistakably Brazilian thriller, an official nominee at the 2022 Angoulême International Comics Festival and a finalist for the Grand Prix de la Critique 2022.

Brazil — Current affairs
Haunted

Hantée

Shaghayegh Moazzami

Çà et Là, 2021

In Haunted, Shaghayegh Moazzami tells of the hardships she faced in her home country of Iran, both at school and within her own family. At the age of 30, she moved to Canada, but continued to feel pressures from religion and tradition instilled in her as a child. Haunted is an unvarnished autobiographical story, a deep dive into the disturbed mind of an angry young woman forced to cope with her inner demons. Through her tale, Shaghayegh Moazzami shows how Iranian women experience unbelievable pressures that will likely haunt them forever.

The Book Tour

La tournée

Andi Watson

Çà et Là, 2019

With the publication of his latest novel, G.H. Fretwell, a little-known English writer, embarks on a book tour. Nothing goes according to plan, and his trip gradually turns into a nightmare. His real troubles begin when he is questioned by the police about a mysterious disappearance. The entertaining, Kafkaesque tale takes a surreal turn as Fretwell’s problems start piling up. Andi Watson’s book is a little gem of black humor with a brilliant, retro visual style.

Official nominee, 2020 Angoulême International Comics Festival and 2021 Eisner Award and Harvey Awards.

Absurdism – Satire
Sun Factory
Soleil mécanique
Lukasz Wojciechowski
Çà et Là, 2021

1937: Bohumil Balda heads a small architectural firm somewhere in the Czech Republic. Bohumil is passionate about his work and hates the Nazi party, which grows stronger by the day. But despite this initial hatred, their mad, spectacular projects exert an inexorable fascination on him… until he starts working with them. Drawn largely in AutoCAD, Sun Factory is a striking experimental comic from Polish architect Lukasz Wojciechowski, a story full of dark humor based loosely on the lives of many artists who became entangled with the Third Reich.

Experimental graphic novel

Formosa
Formose
Li-Chin Lin
Çà et Là, 2011

Li-Chin Lin was born in 1973 in Taiwan and has been living in France for the past 20 years. Here, she tells her own tale of feeling torn between her family’s culture and popular opinion of her birthplace. She explains how the Kuomintang’s dictatorial regime ran the island after Chiang Kai-shek’s arrival in 1949, and how the daily propaganda affected the population, especially children. Li-Chin Lin’s critical take on her homeland’s corruption and ambiguities makes this a striking debut and a great way to understand the complicated relationship between Taiwan and mainland China.

In 1895, the Lumière brothers invented the cinematograph. Less than a year later, 23-year-old Alice Guy directed La fée aux choux for Léon Gaumont, becoming the first female director in film history. She went on to write and direct over 300 films: in Paris, the south of France, Spain, and even America. She was the first woman to found her own production company, building a studio in New Jersey... until she lost everything to an unhappy marriage. Her life is the chronicle of a budding medium, providing an alternate history of film’s early days.

The Burden of Heroes
Le poids des héros
David Sala
Casterman, 2022

In this ambitious and luxurious re-creation of his childhood, David Sala retraces his personal trajectory, marked very early on by the overwhelming figures of his guardians: two grandfathers, both war heroes and Resistance fighters. To tell their stories faithfully, Sala adopts as a narrator the boy he once was, a perspective at once subjective yet remote that enables him to explore his family history as well as his own childhood, with all their gray areas.

Level 5 Alert
Alerte 5
Max de Radiguès
Casterman, 2021

Murder party on Mars! The near future: NASA launches a new manned flight that explodes just after liftoff. The act of terrorist sabotage triggers a Level 5 Alert, beefing up security at all sites and along the routes of ongoing missions. As a result, the Mars base, with its five astronauts, finds itself even more cut off as all communication with the outside world is now forbidden. Tensions rise, pushing each person to the limit… until the inevitable occurs.

Thriller – Mar
Leonard Cohen – On a Wire
Leonard Cohen – Sur un fil
Philippe Girard
Casterman, 2021

The biography of one of the 20th century’s greatest voices. A legend in his home country, Canadian Leonard Cohen (1934-2016) left his mark on 20th century music with the beauty of his compositions. Instantly recognizable from their warmth and gentle melancholy, his songs were often written in tribute to women he loved: Suzanne, Marianne… A series of flashbacks takes readers through this remarkable artist’s life, with moments of genius (“Hallelujah”) and twists of fate (losing the rights to “Suzanne,” scheming from dishonest agents), crossing paths with Janis Joplin, Lou Reed, and Phil Spector…

Climate Emergency
Urgence climatique
Étienne Lécroart, Ivar Ekeland
Casterman, 2021

A graphic novel to help readers understand the urgency of climate change and its consequences. Future generations are in danger! February 2020: A strange, frightening dream forces Étienne Lécroart to confront his fears about global warming. Over a conversation with mathematician and economist Ivar Ekeland, he examines the issues involved from scientific and economic perspectives to better understand the current situation and to consider what we can do to preserve our surroundings in the long term.

Élise and the New Comrades
Élise et les nouveaux partisans
Dominique Grange, Tardi
Delcourt, 2021

Tardi and Dominique Grange deliver an intense and gripping graphic novel with greater resonance than ever before in a world divided by inequality and injustice. They tell the story of Élise, a young singer from Lyon who arrives in Paris in 1958 and decides to turn her back on showbiz after the May riots a decade later. Refusing to “return to normal”, she joins anti-establishment movements fighting against exploitation, social injustice, and racism. An atypical journey that takes readers from the Algerian War to the end of the ’70s.

And Then They Died: The End!
The Dirty Truth About Fairy Tales
Et à la fin ils meurent
La sale vérité sur les contes de fées
Lou Lubie
Delcourt, 2021

What dirty secrets are fairytales hiding?
With great humor, Lou Lubie tracks down the original stories, as dark as they are sassy, and questions their lessons which can be... surprising! From the Greeks and Romans to Perrault and Grimm, she serves up uncensored authentic versions where happy endings are toasted with vodka and the Prince is not so charming. These racy tales give our authoress a chance to ponder their morality, not to mention their violence, sexism, and racism... A fascinating cultural and literary exploration!

The Serpent and the Spear
(Series, 2 volumes)
Le serpent et la lance
Hub
Delcourt, 2021

Four years after his epic saga Okko, Hub is back with The Serpent and the Spear, an Aztec thriller worthy of The Name of the Rose. For the last few months, peasants have been finding mummified bodies of young women brutally slain in ritual fashion. To prevent unrest, the authorities try to hide these hideous murders from the people. The investigation has been discreetly entrusted to Serpent, a cruel high-ranking bureaucrat born without arms. Meanwhile, Cozatl the priest resorts to the services of his childhood friend, Spear-Eye…

Comic books for all book lovers! Futuropolis loves books with a strong sense of character, books that move readers’ hearts and minds and make them think and feel. Books that speak of our world, are grounded in reality. Since its beginnings in 1974, Futuropolis has been determined to promote authors both renowned and as-yet undiscovered in pursuing their dreams and creations. Instead of following schools and trends, Futuropolis features only original works, free from preconceived styles and notions. To better support the varied approaches and intentions of its creators, Futuropolis publishes books whose design reflects their diverse content.

The Law of the Soil
Le droit du sol
Étienne Davodeau
Futuropolis, 2021

Étienne Davodeau’s big comeback to graphic reportage! In June 2019, Étienne Davodeau undertook a 500-mile backpacking journey through France from the Pech Merle cave in southwestern France to the town of Bure near the German border. From cave paintings to nuclear waste, this journey through time and space explores what humans leave behind for generations to come. Davodeau wants readers to understand what separates and connects these two places and dates. His hunch? It probably says a lot about our human relationship to this planet and its soil…

My Bad Daughters
Mes mauvaises filles
Zelba
Futuropolis, 2021

In 2006, two sisters help their mother die, as per her wishes: giving death to the one who gave them birth. After In the Same Boat, Zelba creates a brilliant and moving graphic novel about this intense act, evoking the intimate yet universal moment of losing a loved one. It took Zelba 13 years to tell this story, intertwining her memories and her sister’s, changing names, and fictionalizing certain events. Fearlessly she tackles euthanasia, a hotly debated topic in Europe. Based on her own experience, she campaigns for each person’s right to choose to die as they see fit when the time comes.

Fatty – Hollywood’s First King
Fatty – Le premier roi d’Hollywood
Julien Frey, Nadar
Futuropolis, 2021

Beverly Hills, high and low.
In the early 20th century, Roscoe “Fatty” Arbuckle was Hollywood’s biggest silent movie star. The actor and director known for his imposing physique quickly found success. He shot short films with Chaplin and gave Buster Keaton his film debut… until the day in 1921 when, during a party at a Hollywood villa, a young starlet was found dead. Fatty, with his ogre’s physique, was an ideal culprit. The big, jolly comic was soon seen as a monster. The case traumatized the movie business, and Buster Keaton called it “the day Hollywood stopped laughing.”

Apes – What Kind of Animals Are We?
Singes – Quel genre d’animaux sommes-nous?
Aurel
Futuropolis, 2021

A major, fascinating, and funny work of graphic non-fiction. This anthropological comic explores our relationship as humans with our cousins, the apes. What can we learn from them? What do they show us about ourselves and where we come from? Our evolutionary paths from our common ancestor are obviously different, but by observing apes, are we looking at our past or a species parallel to our own? By meeting with primatologists and intellectuals (but also apes!), Aurel provides humorous answers to these questions.

Anthropic Journal of the Animal Cause
Journal anthropique de la cause animale
Anne Defréville
Futuropolis, 2022

A graphic novel and a wake-up call: Enna, the author’s alter ego, tries to take stock of the animal kingdom’s catastrophic situation. Composed of encounters, investigations, memories, in different environments (food, the luxury industry, health, research…), this naturalist’s journal invites readers to reflect on humans’ contradictory attitudes toward animals: our inconsiderate love for them versus their anthropogenic extermination. A sensitive, funny, and political book by the author of L’âge bleu (The Blue Age, 2020 Artemisia Prize for the Environment).

Pénélope Bagieu
Gallimard BD, 2021

The creator of Brazen (Culottées) delivers her first autobiographical work! Fifteen real-life stories, memorable episodes from childhood and adolescence that, taken together, paint a portrait of the woman she has become! Pénélope Bagieu tackles memoir with grace, honesty, and self-deprecation. In her selection of striking details, her artful observation and storytelling, her talent as a comics creator works wonders in these tales at once personal yet universal. A stunningly designed objet d’art and an intimate diary, with a soft imitation leather cover and elastic book band.

Joann Sfar
Gallimard Bd, 2022

This edition collects two volumes of the original five, which together sold 82,000 copies in France! An epic and musical Slavic saga, the Ashkenazi answer to The Rabbi’s Cat, with Jewish characters who spend more time playing klezmer music than thinking of God… “Doubtless Joann Sfar’s most personal work of fiction, combining his love of music with his passion for Jewish culture and history in a whirlwind of life. The writing is so fluid, the art so ethereal, as if borne aloft by unstinting inspiration.” ~ La Croix

A magical creature called a metamorphose falls in love with a young man named Ambroise. This creature can change shape and appearance at will, but one question haunts her: what appearance must she take to find love? Who must she be to conquer her prey? Unaware of the metamorphose’s true nature and of her obsession with him, Ambroise hopes to prove his talent amongst the other members of the orchestra he has just joined as a harpist. Here he meets Francesca Forabosco — a singer as eccentric as she is famous — who takes him under her wing. She offers Ambroise a deal: she will offer him the harp of his dreams, the strings of which he must earn by completing 47 challenges. One failure, and he loses the instrument.

Sangoma, les damnés de Cape Town
Caryl Férey, Corentin Rouge
Glénat, Collection “24 × 32”, 2021

In South Africa, twenty years after Apartheid, racism is no longer institutionalized, but the population remains divided between white landowners and black workers. In this context, Sam is found dead on the farm of his employers. The investigation, led by Lieutenant Sheppard, is soon weighed down with various elements: family conflicts and secrets, the use of witchcraft, and the disappearance of a toddler. While Shepperd struggles against the silence and lies of his community, the parliament is the theater of oppositions gnawing at the South African nation.

The agrarian reform aiming to redistribute the usurped land of the apartheid era sparks debate and highlights the tensions of radical parties.

The Borders of Douanier Rousseau
Les frontières du Douanier Rousseau
Mathieu Siam, Thibaut Lambert
Michel Lafon, 2022

On January 8, 1909 began the trial of painter Henri Rousseau, a.k.a. Douanier or “customs officer.” The stooped 64-year-old had pled guilty to charges of fraud but did not grasp the gravity of his actions. In light of his apparent naïveté and eccentric remarks, the court faced the following question: “Rousseau, are you a genius or a simpleton?” Through the accounts of four witnesses and two lawyers, this book tells the true tale of a premier avant-garde artist who paved the way for such greats as Picasso, Gauguin, and Pissarro, and shared his poetry with Alfred Jarry and Guillaume Apollinaire.

Bash (Series, 2 volumes)

Rudy Gobert, Hellef Bay, Vince Serrano
Michel Lafon, 2021

Aliens have taken over Earth. Young Rudy lives with his mother in the poverty-stricken neighborhood of Nevillia and finds solace in playing bash, the most popular sport in the universe: a violent, gladiatorial form of basketball also used in some parts of the galaxy as a means of conflict resolution. His first real match reveals his incredible talent and fuels his dream of becoming the best player... ever.

12,301 Days with my Granny
12 301 jours avec ma mamie
Églantine Chesneau
Michel Lafon, 2019

Églantine and her grandma are inseparable. They share everything: childhood memories, weekly lunches, and the same mischievous sense of humor. But that humor grows increasingly offbeat when Gran starts losing her mind... By turns funny, tender, poignant, and always utterly charming, Églantine’s graphic diary of her days with Gran is a love letter to all our grandmothers.

Camel Joe
Claire Duplan
Rue de l’échiquier, Collection “Rue de l’échiquier BD”, 2018

Young illustrator Constance gets back at the countless aggressions today’s women suffer in a comic strip called Camel Joe that celebrates the exciting life of a busy anti-macho avenger. It’s an outlet that could turn into a professional publication. But Constance is full of self-doubt; she needs to assert herself more. Luckily, there’s her group of friends, her boyfriend, not to mention Camel Joe herself: who knows if this paper bombshell doesn’t actually exist? Fierce, joyous, and almost punk, Claire Duplan has a style and tone resolutely her own, brimming with humor and energy.

A Good Formula
Le sens de la formule
Willy Waller, Pierre Lecrenier
Rue de l’échiquier,
Collection “Rue de l’échiquier BD”, 2022

In the late 1960s, Gilles Garnaud, a young man full of energy, undertook a seemingly crazy gamble: to transform his ecological ideals, which at the time almost no one took seriously, into a business. His encounter with Jeanne-Marie, a biologist who became his wife, lent his project scientific credibility. With no resources but strong convictions, the couple set up a company selling first organic cleaning products, then organic cosmetics. The road was long, hard, and exhausting… but it worked!

Crumbling Memories
Mémoires effondrées
Baya
Rue de l’échiquier,
Collection “Rue de l’échiquier BD”, 2021

Over the course of his life, Antoine Donelli wrote his loved ones illustrated letters in which he pondered the meaning of life, the point of money, the mystery of creation, obedience of authority, the pursuit of happiness… Found after his death in 2044, these sketchbooks, grouped here in forty remarkable chapters, paint an accurate and moving portrait of a man’s inner life in a world tormented by the specter of collapse. This album is also a high-flying exercise in artistic virtuosity: Baya composes a diverse mosaic of graphic worlds and moods, in the vein of Dave McKean.

Diary – Memoir – Collapsology

Guizou, Cécile Barnéoud
Rue de l’échiquier,
Collection “Rue de l’échiquier BD”, 2020

Gaëtan, a depressed corporate drone, decides to quit and to take a year off with his partner Izia to learn about permaculture, an ethical approach to living that aims to build sustainable human habitats by taking inspiration from nature. An affectionate look at the young couple’s long but always exciting journey, this comic, which doubles as a work of popular science, will make readers wonder if they themselves can “live the permaculture life.” Is permaculture the key to a more fulfilling, harmonious, and equitable existence?
Permaculture – Environment – Life changes

Thoreau and I
Thoreau et moi
Cédric Taling
Rue de l’échiquier
Collection “Rue de l’échiquier BD”, 2019

Cédric is questioning his life choices. Surrounded by uncertainty and despair in the face of mass consumerism and climate change, he discusses his plight with the spirit of Henry David Thoreau, proto-environmentalist and author of Walden. Almost two centuries separate them, but they find striking parallels between 19th-century commercialism and today’s capitalist alienation. Inspired by Thoreau’s return to nature, Cédric begins dreaming of his own retreat from urban life. Blending humor, philosophy, and fiction, Taling explores how we can learn to live with and respond to our own anxieties.

Family – Class – Love
Moon
Cyrille Pomès
Rue de Sèvres, 2022

Vacation season is over in a coastal Mediterranean village. Everyone left is trying to kill time while awaiting next summer. The adults are used to this period of hibernation, but it’s a lot tougher when you’re a teenager. So when lightning strikes the relay antenna at the seaside resort, cutting off all communication to the outside world, the teenagers are stunned, panicked, and desperate. Away from the rules that governed the schoolyard, they must learn to reinvent their daily lives. And maybe they’ll discover that, in the end, it’s not bad…

Adolescence – Social media – Relationship

Black Light
Lumière noire
Claire Fauvel, Thomas Gilbert
Rue de Sèvres, 2021

Renowned choreographer Ava thinks her art is pointless. Ironically, just when she’s decided to give up, she gets a grant to create a new performance. But from the second she sees Ian dancing at a graduation gala, she’s drawn to him like a magnet. Wanting to create a new way of dancing, Ava proposes they work together. Their shared vision of the world and much more leads them to seal themselves off in a bubble, powerless before their passion. Will upheavals in the outside world eventually manifest in their relationship and lead them to self-destruction?

Contemporary dance – Society – Self-destruction
Seven years after the events in Dark Meat City, California, Vinz and Angelino (still a sushi delivery boy) are living peacefully in their rapidly gentrifying city. But on social networks, an anonymous user named "Ω" is sowing major dissent amongst locals. When a “Pizza Gate” –type incident happens at the sushi bar where Angelino works as a result of online fake news, Angelino is forced to leave DMC. He and Vinz take off looking for Willy, whom they haven't heard from in seven years. MFK2 explores social media at a time when society is more polarized than ever.

Social media – Friendship – Fake news

Martin and his friends knew that, sooner or later, one of them would be beaten up just because of how they dressed, looked, or acted. In the end, it happened to the nicest of them all: Erwan, resident tinkerer, whose only crime was wearing a tie and polished shoes. But the attack on Erwan makes all of them suffer. They drift apart at school, always on edge. The slightest unfairness sets them off. They want to act, but each in their own particular way. Rights sold in Italian.

The Cliff
La falaise
Manon Debaye
Sarbacane, 2021

One is gentle blonde dreamer, the other a violent, rageful brunette. One comes from a happy, wealthy, family, the other from a broken, dysfunctional home. At middle school, one immerses herself body and soul in reading and writing fantastical tales while the other harasses, insults, and lashes out with a clique that accepts her because she’s not “a real girl.” They have nothing in common. Except for the cliff where they secretly meet every day, and the blood oath they made there not to live a day over thirteen. This Friday, will Astrid and Charlie take the plunge, or will they choose to face their feelings and instead, close the distance between them?

Sarbacane, 2022

What happened last night? Try as she might, Ella, a rebellious high-schooler and fizzy brunette, can’t seem to wring the memory from her alcohol-soaked brain cells. It’s a total blackout. She can’t recall last night’s party at a mysterious stranger’s mansion, or why she woke up in her bed surrounded by glaringly priceless objects that aren’t her own. That’s when Madeleine—yup, sweet, secretive Madeleine, whom Ella drools and fantasizes over, but has never dared talk to—shows up at the door and declares her love. Ella can’t believe her luck. That is, until Maddy tells her that last night there was a robbery… during the party she threw at her parents’ house! Oops…

Georgia O’Keeffe – Amazon of the Modern Art
Georgia O’Keeffe – Amazone de l’art moderne
Sara Colaone, Luca de Santis
Steinkis/Éditions du Centre Pompidou, 2021

In 1949, three years after Alfred Stieglitz’s death, Georgia took refuge at Ghost Ranch in New Mexico with friends Maria Chabot, Anita Pollitzer and her secretary Doris Bry to take an inventory of Stieglitz’s photos and drawings. Through this complex undertaking, Georgia retraces her own path in life and in art, from Art Institute of Chicago (1905) to her success as the premiere female American artist (1943) and her most recent work. This book is a co-publication with the National Centre of Art and Culture Georges Pompidou (Paris). Rights sold in Italy.

Cold War Women Spies
Les espionnes racontent
Chloé Aeberhardt, Aurélie Pollet
Steinkis/Arte Éditions, 2021

For five years, Journalist Chloe Aeberhardt travelled the world from Paris to Washington, Moscow to Tel Aviv, in search of former female intelligence agents. She met Genevieve, Martha, Jonna, Gabriele, Ludmila, and Yola. Far from the persistent clichés of the Bond girl or Mata Hari, these women each played decisive roles in the Cold War. In this book, women spies, poorly represented in intelligence services, share their memories and reflections on a dangerous profession where every detail counts and anything can change from one moment to the next. A book co-published with the Arte channel.

Steinkis, 2021

March 11, 2011: Fukushima, a nuclear disaster on a scale unheard of since Chernobyl. Like all the inhabitants of the region, Naoto Matsumura was evacuated. But this farmer could not bring himself to abandon the farm where his family had lived for five generations… or his animals. Willing to do anything to save lives, he returns to his home in the middle of a forbidden zone. Alluding to Japanese legends and odes to nature, this story pays tribute to one man’s struggle and the beauty of life—life always wins out in the end. Rights sold in the US and Germany.
