PARIS BOOK market

1 & 2 June 2023

In June 2023, for the second year, Paris will host the PARIS BOOK MARKET, organized by the Bureau International de l'Édition Française (BIEF, International Bureau of French Publishing) and designed exclusively for professionals in the publishing industry. The event will bring together French foreign rights representatives and their international counterparts for two days of B-to-B meetings.

The Paris Book Market aims to promote French editorial production to foreign professionals.

Like last year, the Paris Book Market 2023 will enable foreign publishers who are interested in acquiring rights of French titles to meet the rights sellers of French publishing houses.

So if you are a foreign professional looking to sell rights for foreign titles to French publishers, then this event probably does not meet your needs.

A unique networking opportunity for publishing professionals in a prestigious setting. Participants will benefit from bespoke logistical services and the expertise of the BIEF.
